

the bill which was to extend it to a condition of parole got lost and it ended up being a series of conditions for probation restitution. We now have restitution as a part of probation in Nebraska so we struck that and allowed these committee amendments then to speak to both restitution as a condition of probation and as a condition of parole. I don't know if I need to speak to this further. I would hope that you would amend the committee amendments and we can talk further on the purpose of the bill. Thank you. (Pirsch amendment appears on page 1478 of the Legislative Journal.)

SENATOR SCOFIELD: Senator Haberman, did you want to speak on the Pirsch amendment to the committee amendments?

SENATOR HABERMAN: Yes, Mr. President. Would Senator Pirsch yield to a question, please? Senator Pirsch, is this an amendment to your amendment that is printed in the Journal or is the amendment in the Journal...you're going to withdraw that?

SENATOR PIRSCH: Yes, this amendment to the committee amendments will be the amendment that I seek at this time.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Well, then you're not going to follow through with the one that you printed in the Journal on page 1370 on March 13?

SENATOR PIRSCH: Well, we felt that it was probably easier to amend the committee amendments and go with what the committee thought were the conditions that both should go through.

SENATOR HABERMAN: I've gone through your amendments that were in the Journal and have a lot of questions, so I won't raise those then because you're not going to take those up. Is that correct?

SENATOR PIRSCH: Correct.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Then I have a question on your present amendment.

SENATOR PIRSCH: Mmm, hmm.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Do you have any...does this amendment
